ALUMNI BANQUET—DANCE TONIGHT

Jelly Time in Store At the High School Building This Evening.

The members of the Alumni Association of the Maysville High School will hold their annual banquet and dance this evening in the Maysville High School building. The banquet will take place at 7:30 o'clock, and the arrangements include addresses by some of the prominent citizens. It is promised that this is to be the best entertainment ever given by the association since its organization. The banquet will be served by the ladies of the First Baptist church, whose reputation as servers of delicious spreads is already firmly established.

Promptly at 10 o'clock the dance will begin. The music for the occasion will be the Maysville Saxophone Trio, which has given entire satisfaction at a number of social functions, and is especially good at furnishing dance music.

NEW GARAGE

Mr. J. R. Stevens Will Open Up-To-Date Garage in Fitzgerald Building.

Maysville will, in a few days, have a new business house when Mr. J. R. Stevens, of Cincinnati, opens a garage in the building recently occupied by the Fitzgerald Saddlery Company.

He will handle the famous Oakland make of autos and will run a high-class repair department. Mr. Stevens is a practical man, having spent years in the auto business and having several patents on various machines.

He will move his family here in a few days and will take up his residence in the Hechinger property on West Front street. Mr. Stevens will employ several high-class mechanics and promises the people of this city the best there is in the garage business.

We are authorized to announce W. H. Rees, of Maysville, as a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic voters at the primary election to be held August 7, 1915.

HANDSOME FIDEL

Mr. Thomas A. Davis has just received one of the most beautiful Masonic charms. It is made of gold, in five leaves, as it were, which fold one against the other, and when folded, look with a clasp. The first leaf is the emblem of the Blue Lodge, the next is the Chapter emblem, then the Commandery, the fourth is the Shrine and the last is the Thirty-second Degree Scottish Rite. At the point where the leaves join it is studded with a beautiful diamond.

The charm is the only one of its kind in existence, being designed after his own idea by Mr. Davis himself. In it he has shown his artistic temperament and afforded the jeweler who made it, an opportunity to demonstrate his workmanship.

MRS. WILLIAM GREENLEE.

Mrs. William Greenlee, aged 65, passed away at her home on East Fourth street, on Thursday evening, after a short illness. Mrs. Greenlee was born in Ripley, O., and has been a resident of this city for a number of years. She was a member of the Newlight church. She is survived by her husband, Mr. William Greenlee, of this city; one son, Mr. Elmer Greenlee, of Aberdeen; three daughters, Mrs. Edward Glascock, of Ellersberry, O.; Misses Mary and Edith Greenlee, of this city; and one grandson, Mr. W. E. Jacobs, of this city. Burial in the Manchester cemetery Friday morning at 11 o'clock. Services by Rev. Edward Greenlee, of Ellersberry, O.

SWIMMING SEASON AT HAND.

With the advent of real summer weather comes the longing to go "in swimming," and the recent performance by the water show here seems to have pried the lid off for the local water fans.

One of the first swimmers of the season was Miss Ella McClamahan, a devotee of the sport who just could not resist the call any longer. She and Mr. Edwood Roger took their first dip in the beautiful Dido Thursday afternoon and report the water cold but invigorating.

No doubt the season will be on in full tilt within a few days and the sandbar will be once again densely populated with water-lovers.

GOOD WOMAN DIES.

Mrs. Jennie Zimmaster died Thursday at 10:05 p. m., at the home of her sister, Mrs. Clarence Dresel, of East Second street, after a long and painful lingering of nineteen weeks. She was a good Christian woman, having joined the Christian church at an early age. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Mrs. Walter Moore, of Cincinnati; two sisters, Mrs. Clarence Dresel and Mrs. Emma Limerick, and two brothers, James and Will Evans, of this city.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

Maysville High School Graduates Receive Diplomas and Render Excellent Program.

The commencement exercises of the Maysville High School were held on Thursday evening in the High School auditorium, in the presence of a large gathering of friends and relatives. It is usually the custom that commencement exercises shall be given over to orations and addresses by some dignitaries, who generally consume more than their allotted time on the program, but this year the High School authorities arranged a program almost entirely executed by the graduates themselves, which was a welcome change, and that they made no mistake is well illustrated by the excellent manner in which the participants acquitted themselves.

Following is the program as rendered: "Sweet Briar Overtures"—Orchestra Invocation—Rev. Will Campbell Salutatory—Mary Adelaide Cummins "Morn-Rise"—Alphons Czibulka Girls' Glee Club "Historical Maysville"—Naomi Elizabeth Mathews "Maysville's Hall of Fame"—Ruth Cummings Thomas "Sweet and Low"—Quartet Lucie Smith, Ria Ross, Carroll Matthews and Ruth Willett "Communion Form of Government"—John Watson Matthews "Mighty Lak a Rose"—Orchestra "The New Maysville"—Hermann L. Calvert "Barcarolle" (Arr. by W. Rhys-Herbert)—Offenbach Girls' Glee Club Valedictory—Myron Daniel Merz Presentation of Diplomas—S. P. Browning, President Board of Education "Rambler March"—Orchestra Presentation of Scholarships—Prof. Maue

Every number on the program is worthy of special mention, but space forbids us going into a lengthy article on the merits of each subject discussed. However, we have this much to say, that there were several new thoughts and ideas advanced by this graduating class of 1915 to the audience, which made them look up and notice.

The remarks of President S. P. Browning as to the purposes of the High School were timely and appropriate and showed the citizens of Maysville where they stood in matters educational. The present Board of Education is to be congratulated upon the high state of efficiency to which they have brought the public schools of Maysville. Honor to them.

That High School Orchestra was a real surprise to those present, the music being charming and delightful. Mr. C. E. Gelsel, as director, showed what could be done in a few weeks toward producing an orchestra that is the equal of any high school in the state. Following compose the orchestra: C. E. Gelsel, director; Misses Stella Archibald, Nellie Young, Ria Ross; Messrs. John Kain, T. G. Bailey, J. H. Richardson, H. J. Ellis, Gordon Smoot, Harold Caplinger, Ellsworth Cabbish, John Everett, Jr., Howell Richardson and William Gelsel.

The program was well arranged and just long enough not to be tiresome. This feature was a new idea and was hailed with approval.

The 1915 Class consisted of twenty-three members, and is the largest class in the history of the schools to be graduated at one time. Here are the names of those who got their diplomas, with the faculty added:

Hazel Aldrich, Amye Daugh, Elizabeth Houghton, Hermann Calvert, Lola Chamberlain, Earl Cobb, Myron Merz, first honor pupil; Adelaide Cummins, second honor pupil; Rethel Stevenson, Edith Hoeftich, George Hunt, Francis Hopper, Gordon Marsh, John Matthews, Jo. Edwin Matthews, Naomi Matthews, Ruth Thomas, Julia Muse, Esther Ort, Elizabeth Peed, Franklin Slay, Martha Sharp, Clara Stone.

Superintendent of Schools—W. J. Caplinger.

Principal of High School—G. C. Maue.

Assistants—Nell Sutherland, Ivez Luten, Edith Dickson, C. S. Dale, Ellen Threlkeld, Margaret Habermann, J. A. Bell.

Music Instructor—Dorothy Doud Siddall.

NOTES—"BY STUDENT."

Ed Gelsel is sure there with his orchestra. We have paid double to hear worse.

"Farmer" Matthews is right there when it comes to politics. He's a chip off the old block. His talk on Communion Form of Government was clear and concise.

Miss Adelaide Cummins said her little piece with credit to herself and to the class.

The Girls' Glee Club were on the job and sang their way into the hearts of everybody there.

Mathews, was a well written paper and should be published in the newspapers, and so should "Maysville's Hall of Fame," by Miss Ruth Thomas.

Prof. Caplinger was "right there" in introducing our Prize Winning Girls' Quartette. They were the equal of anything on the program.

"New Maysville," by "Ham" Calvert, was all right. He always was a dreamer. Now we know it.

"Pres." Merz in handling the class their "departure tickets," showed he was still there with the "con." He acquitted himself like an old-timer.

It was certainly a handsome looking class of graduates. The girls, however, had the best of the looks in their cape and gowns.

Did you notice the grin of Prof. Caplinger during the exercises? He looked as if he was the happiest man in Maysville. He is entitled to all the honor that people give him. He worked hard and faithful for the boys and girls.

We don't mind attending commencement exercises, when they are short and sweet, like those of Thursday night.

THE FIVE PER CENT DISCOUNT CLAUSE.

We have seen that many of the provisions of the Underwood tariff law were so crudely constructed that they were susceptible of several interpretations, rendering them ineffective until their true meaning had been judicially determined.

That paragraph which it is thought was intended to give a 5 per cent discount in customs duties on merchandise imported in American vessels has recently come into prominence through an opinion rendered by the Court of Customs Appeals, which virtually declares the effect of the provision to be a wholesale discrimination in favor of the ships of certain foreign countries.

During the debate in Congress upon that passage of the law, the Republicans gave repeated warnings that, apart from its policy, the phraseology of this section was meaningless and should be corrected to accomplish its purpose, but the Democrats with but a vague idea of aiding American shipping, adopted a like vague method of extending such aid, and with their usual carelessness in constructing legislation, enacted this section in such terms that it was impossible of interpretation and had to be submitted to judicial determination.

This section, after providing the discount in favor of American vessels, some fifty in number, went on to say that "nothing herein shall be construed as to abrogate or in any manner impair or affect the provisions of our treaties with foreign nations," and from the opinion of the court it appears that there are some 5,500 treaty nation vessels which must now receive the same bounty as the fifty American ships.

In its decision the court referred to statistics showing that the discount provision reduces duties 5 per cent upon considerably more than one-half of all our dutiable goods, and added: "The wisdom or expediency of the policy is a matter into which we may not inquire nor have we the right to suspend the operation of the statute because we may think its purpose is not adequately accomplished."

After all their labored adjustment of tariff rates, the Democrats in this single paragraph impaired the effect of preceding schedules and conferred upon foreign ships a valuable privilege intended only for our own vessels.

And now in harmony with this decision there must be a refund of customs duties collected on merchandise imported in vessels subject to this provision amounting to from twelve to fifteen million dollars, and these millions must come from a treasury already facing a huge deficit resulting from the gross mismanagement of the present administration.

In the Wrong Shop.

Green did not have a happy little home. At times there were sundry sounds like great excitement, and eagerly the neighbors listened. Finally Green stacked up against a lawyer and recited his tale of woe.

"You say," thoughtfully remarked the lawyer, when Green eased up a bit, "that you want a divorce because your wife treats you brutally?"

"Yes, sir," was the quick rejoinder of the client.

"She treats me like a dog and makes me work like a horse."

"In that case," returned the lawyer, "you are in the wrong shop. You should have gone to the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals."—Exchange.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPING IS THE ROAD TO ECONOMY.

For the Handy Woman.

The most important article of furniture in the kitchen is doubtless the sink. When this clogs up the kitchen work is seriously interfered with and a long wait for a plumber and a big bill does not make the household duties run any smoother.

Every day when the kitchen work is completed a large piece of washing soda should be put over the drain holes and boiling water poured upon it. This will carry off all grease in the pipes and keep them sweet and pure.

An odor arising from a drain pipe should be reported to the landlord immediately, for this is dangerous. Until the matter is remedied put chloride of lime in the pipes at night.

The cook stove comes next. The convenience of gas stoves has made city people almost forget that there are thousands of homes without gas connections.

Sometimes the kitchen range contains an ugly crack that interferes with cooking. This may be filled with a cement made of white of egg, sifted ashes and stove polish. It should be thick enough to spread. Work the paste smooth with a pliable knife and press it into the crack, then smooth it over the top. This will harden and can be polished until almost unnoticeable.

Just at this season a few words about the kitchen floor may not be out of place. It should be easily cleaned and comfortable and very few materials combine these properties. Linoleum is the only one we know of that is soft to the tread and sanitary, with good wearing qualities. Where the cost of this covering is prohibitive the best plan is to grain the floor and use washable rugs.

The work of graining can be done in the following manner: First clean the floor perfectly and fill all cracks with putty and when this is hard give a heavy coat of oil paint and let it dry twenty-four hours. Now mix yellow miter and raw sienna dry paint powder with vinegar, to cover about a square yard with this mixture and at once mark with a graining comb. These combs cost 25 cents. Work the longways of the boards, giving quick strokes until you have gone over the entire surface. Let this dry over night and then varnish.

This gives a handsome floor surface and does away with scrubbing, as it can be cleaned with a soft moist mop. Any sort of bright rug looks pretty on such a floor.

MOVING PICTURES AND CIGAR SALES.

Numberless things have been charged up to the moving pictures since they first came upon the scene a few years ago.

It was said they would make serious inroads into the receipts of the high-priced theaters, and they have; that they would prove great educators of the people, and the have; that they would increase the cost of living, and in a small way they have; and that they would incite youthful minds to evil, and but for the excellent censorship that has come perhaps that would have been a result.

It has remained, however, for someone to discover that also they have cut largely into the consumption of tobacco and reduced the patronage of the saloons.

Formerly the chief patronage of the moving picture house came from the women and children; but as the business has developed and the quality of the productions improved, the attendance of men has enormously increased; and so, he argues, the time these men who go to the picture houses have to smoke and drink has been so materially shortened as to compel a consumption of both tobacco and liquor.

Tobacco, a well known trade paper, meets the argument by recalling that much the same thing was said when the bicycle craze took hold of the country and that it also was predicted that general use of the automobile would cut down the number of cigars consumed; and adds that in neither case did annual figures sustain the argument.

But the cases are not exactly parallel. So many more millions are going to picture shows than ever rode bicycles or can afford to own automobiles, that it would not do to say off-hand that this discovery of a new influence exerted by the films is without merit.

WILL TAKE THE RISK.

New York, June 17.—Agents of the Russian-American Steamship Company, in this city, declared there would be no alteration in their sailing schedule, due to the German submarine blockade of the White sea-port of Archangel.

A REMARKABLE FEAT

Story of German Submarine's Three-Thousand-Mile Voyage.

In an interview with a correspondent of the Chicago Daily News, cabled from Constantinople on June 6, Captain Otto Herring has told the story of his voyage in the German submarine U-51 from Wilhelmshaven to Constantinople, about 3,000 miles, toward the close of which he sunk the British battleships Triumph and Majestic.

"We left Wilhelmshaven April 25," Captain Herring said. "When I was told that I was going to Constantinople I said: 'Good! That is worth while.' I left only the first officer and the chief engineer into the secret to explain the increased supplies taken aboard. We slipped quietly out of Wilhelmshaven, as have so many other submarines going into the war area. We kept on the surface most of the time, watching for big ships of the enemy, but failed to see any for a long time, to our great disappointment.

"Off the coast of England we were finally fired upon by a destroyer and had to dive for safety, but along the French coast we encountered no enemy. When 100 miles from Gibraltar we were fired upon by other British destroyers. We waited outside Gibraltar and passed through the strait early in the morning in plain view, but without drawing a single shot or attracting the least attention. Those were tense but gratifying hours.

"Once within the Mediterranean the watch, already exacting, was redoubled. Here again we encountered ships of the enemy near a small island, but dived for safety under fire. When passing Malta we were fired upon by a French destroyer, but were untouched. We then proceeded south of Greece into the Aegean sea and to the Dardanelles.

"We arrived there on the night preceding May 25, having come from Wilhelmshaven in exactly one month. In the early morning light we saw the Triumph and the Majestic lying off the coast, constantly encircled by destroyers. Through the periscope I saw a destroyer coming directly for us. We dived, and the destroyer passed immediately over us with a sound like that of a motor boat.

"We came up immediately. I took aim through the periscope and pressed the button, automatically firing the torpedo, and the projectile slipped noiselessly into the water. We dived again. The explosion which followed was as terrible as though it had been in the fore part of the submarine itself.

"Then we lay hidden two days and a half," continued Captain Herring, "after which we came up again in the midst of the British ships. Just before noon, looking through the periscope, I saw the Majestic surrounded by ten ships steaming around her in a constant circle for her protection. I could see the Majestic's sailors on the deck taking their noonday nap. 'Shall I disturb them?' I thought. Then seeing a welcome space between the encircling ships, I pressed the electric button and the torpedo was going right. It caught the Majestic a little to the rear of amidships.

"We dived again. We noticed that the bombardment from the ships had ceased, for they had been shelling the Turkish land positions.

"We remained submerged for several hours, and then came to the surface to find the British ships had disappeared, and all search for them was in vain. We came to Constantinople, arriving yesterday morning, having passed forty-two days in the submarine without rest or change."

A WORD WITH WOMEN

Valuable Advice for Maysville Readers.

Many a woman endures with noble patience the daily misery of backache, pains about the hips, blue, nervous spells, dizziness and urinary disorders, hopeless of relief because she doesn't know what is the matter.

It is not true that every pain in the back or hips is trouble "peculiar to the sex." Often when the kidneys get congested and inflamed, such aches and pains follow.

You can tell it is kidney trouble if the secretions are dark colored, contain sediment, the passages are too frequent or scanty. Then help the weakened kidneys. Don't expect them to get well alone.

Doan's Kidney Pills have won the praise of thousands of women. They are endorsed at home—Read this Maysville woman's convincing statement: "Mrs. Dora McFarr, Maysville, Ky., says: 'I had been feeling poorly for some time, before I knew that my kidneys were at fault. I was nervous and dizzy and my back and head ached. I rested poorly and mornings I was all tired out. I read in a local paper how a neighbor had been cured of kidney trouble by Doan's Kidney Pills. I used them and before long I was a great deal better. I was able to sleep well and they improved my health.'

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mrs. McFarr had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

LOVES OF GREAT AMERICANS.

Bayard Taylor's Tragic Romance.

A 19-year-old boy—son of a farmer's widow—tramped Park Row in 1844 looking in vain for work in the newspaper offices. Thirty-four years later his body was to lie in state in New York City Hall, just across from Park Row, and the world of letters was to mourn him.

The boy was Bayard Taylor. At 15 he had been a self-taught linguist; at 16 a schoolmaster; at 17 a printer, and at 18 a full-fledged poet and newspaper writer. And from early childhood he had been in love.

The girl he loved was Mary Agnew, a neighbor's daughter. He and Mary had been lovers since they were mere babies. They had grown up with the unshaken intention to marry as soon as Taylor could support a wife.

"She was an intelligent and beautiful girl," says Taylor's biographer, "and to him she seemed more angel than human, with her dark eyes and soft brown hair. She was his inspiration."

But Mary's parents did not like the idea of her marrying a lad who had no money, no profession, no prospects. In fact, they positively forbade any engagement between the two young people.

And, to earn money to marry on, Taylor came to New York to look for work. After much trouble he secured orders for European travel letters from several newspapers (at $50 for an entire series), and he set out for Germany. It was his chance to make good. And he took that chance, even though it meant a long absence from his sweetheart.

Mary's parents would not let her correspond with him while he was away. So it was only through his mother that he heard anything from her. It was his mother, too, who managed to soften the hearts of the Agnews toward her son's suit. Taylor's travel letters scored a great success. When he came back to America, at 22, his feet were already on the rungs of the success ladder. And, with the consent of her parents, Mary became engaged to him.

But, though his name was beginning to be known, he was still poor and in debt. And three years of grinding work passed before he was in a position to marry. At last a date in early May, 1850, was set for the wedding day.

Travel and absence and experience had not weakened Taylor's love for his childhood sweetheart. One of his letters to her, written at about this time, begins:

"One word from you is dearer to me than the cold praise of all the critics in the land!"

Just before the day fixed for the wedding Mary Agnew fell ill. The ceremony was postponed until she should be in better health. But she grew steadily worse.

Early in October of that same year they were married. And in December Mary died.

For months Taylor was a mental and physical wreck. The loss of the girl he had loved from babyhood broke his heart and left him unfit to take up the burden of life again.

"Another such winter will kill me, I am certain," he wrote to a friend. "I can not work with any spirit. I shall go on a journey somewhere—no matter where."

He went on the journey, then on several others. And, during one of them, in 1857, he married again.

ITALY MAY DECLARE WAR ON TURKEY.

Rome, June 17.—Political circles are beginning to consider the eventuality of declaring war against Turkey, in order to end a most embarrassing situation.

The Italian ambassador to Constantinople is prevented from telegraphing to Rome and numerous incidents of like character are adding to the complexity of the situation.

It is the idea of the National published in the form of a strong demand that Italy should declare war upon Turkey and participate in the campaign at the Dardanelles.

SUGAR MAKING

An Ancient As Well As Modern Industry—Over $500,000,000 Spent Annually In the United States For Products.

The world has had a "sweet tooth" for many ages. People have been eating sugar for time immemorial it would seem, and growing sugar cane is an industry so old that it antedates the Christian era by many centuries. At least that is what we gather from an article by Edward Albee, in the May number of the Monthly Bulletin of the Pan-American Union, Washington, D. C., which gives a comprehensive account of the cane sugar industry in the Americas, and incidentally embodies an interesting resume of what is actually known of the history of the industry throughout the world from the very dawn of civilization to the present.

"Scientists admit they do not know just where the sugar cane originated," he writes, "for nowhere has it been found in its wild state. It has been a cultivated product for many centuries, and the first mention to be found in written records is in the sacred books of the Hindus: 'I have crowned thee with a shooting sugar cane, so that thou shalt not be adverse to me,' was written many centuries before the Christian era. In the train of Alexander the Great during his Asiatic conquests were some observant persons who made notes of what they saw, when not too busy killing off the inhabitants, and in these written documents, according to later writers who fell heir to them, is told the story of 'a reed growing in India which produces honey without bees.' Thus sugar cane was evidently well known in that country before 320 B. C."

As to the manufactured product of the cane, the first kind of sugar of which mention is made was a concentrated cane juice called 'gur' in India ('gud' in Sanskrit), and this seems to have been known as a food from prehistoric times. That its manufacture was a well established industry in India in the seventh century is attested by the old Chinese encyclopedia, the Pen-tiao-kan-ün, which states that the Emperor Taitsung, who reigned from 627 to 650 A. D., sent some of his people to Behar to learn the art of sugar making. The manufacture of sugar even in the early centuries of the Christian era was not restricted to the mere evaporation of the juice of the cane to dryness, for the Arabs and Egyptians had soon learned how to purify raw sugar by recrystallization, and incidentally how to make a great variety of sweets, mints, or candy, out of the product.

The author tells of the introduction of the cane into Sicily by the Arabs in 703, whence it was taken to Africa, to Spain and all along the coast of the Mediterranean sea, as well as to the islands and borders of the Indian ocean. The Crusaders found extensive sugar cane plantations in Tripoli, Mesopotamia, Syria, Antioch and Cyprus, and by the fourteenth century the cane was being cultivated in every part of the known world where soil and climate were propitious.

It came to South America by being introduced into Brazil by the Portuguese, who brought it from Madeira, and thence it spread to nearly all the other countries of that continent. Columbus is said to have brought it to the island of Santo Domingo, whence it spread to Mexico and Cuba. It was introduced into the other islands of the West Indies as soon as they came under European domination. The first sugar cane came to Louisiana by being sent to the Jesuits from Santo Domingo, in 1751, some English authorities giving the date as 1737.

Although practically all of the countries of the Pan-American Union cultivate the cane, Cuba is the greatest producer of cane sugar, not only in the western hemisphere, but in the world. The total production of the western hemisphere for the 1913-14 season amounted to 4,919,814 tons, of which Cuba produced 2,597,732 tons, or nearly 52 per cent. The total cane sugar production of the world was 9,773,348 tons, and deducting the 2,597,732 produced in India and locally consumed, it is seen that Cuba produces nearly 35 per cent of the cane sugar that is available in the markets of the world.

The United States is the greatest sugar consuming country of the world. In 1913 its total consumption amounted to 3,743,139 tons—including cane, beet and maple. This is a per capita consumption of 85.3 pounds per annum. Much of this is consumed in the form of candy, over $500,000,000 being spent for that sweet commodity in the United States every year. New York is the largest candy-consuming center of the world, and to supply that city alone it would take five trains of fifty cars, each loaded to the limit with candy, every week in the year if it had to be shipped in on a railroad.

"THE ISLAND OF TENEDOS."

Washington, D. C.—Among the advanced camps of foremost importance is the allied French and English base on the small island of Tenedos, which lies just before the Aegean mouth of the Dardanelles. The following description of this point, whence the great military and naval attempt upon the formidable fortified strait is being made, is given in today's war primer of the National Geographic Society:

"The island of Tenedos commands the approach to the Dardanelles, lying but eight miles south-southwest from the mouth of the strait and about five miles from the coast of Asia Minor. Removed from the field of the guns of the Dardanelles forts within short steaming distance of the waterway under attack and with a comfortable reach of the main land, readily supplied with provisions from the neighboring islands and mainland ports of Greece, surrounded by deep water and having an ideal anchorage for battle-ships, Tenedos admirably fulfills the requirements of an advanced base. For months now this little island has been abuzz with activities incident upon one of the most stupendous undertakings of the allies."

Tenedos, despite its insignificant size, commerce, population count and productivity, has been visited by many an imposing hostile fleet and army, brought thither by its strategic value as a forward post on the world's most disputed waterway. Aeolians, originally settled here, and Persia, Athens, Rome, Byzantium, Venice, Ottoman, Constantinople and, now, France and Great Britain have successively brought it under their control. The island has been an Ottoman possession since 1322, being included under the administration of the archipelago vilayet. "Even, rocky, almost mountainous in parts, there are yet within the sixteen square miles of the island's area some very fertile soils. There is some fruitful garden land and rich pasturage, but the most important product is wine, of which some 5,000,000 gallons are exported each year. Tenedos supports a population of about 4,000, only one-third of whom are Mohammedans. The only town, of the same name as the island, is enclosed by rough-hewn walls and shelters, among other remains from times long past, great storehouses erected by Justinian, storehouses, mayhap, that are now doing service as modern arsenals."

ARBITRATION PLAN ENDS CHICAGO STRIKE.

Chicago, June 17.—Arbitration to determine the terms on which Chicago street car men will work for the next two years will begin next Monday.

The men who are to decide the points of dispute between the elevated and surface lines and their employees will be chosen within a day or two, and with Mayor Thompson as the umpire, will be ready to start the evidence next week toward drafting an agreement that will prevent any repetition of the tieup that Chicago experienced from midnight Monday until nearly noon Wednesday.

The end of the trouble came with a suddenness that surprised even the parties to the dispute.

DURAZZO SHAKY.

Salonica, June 17.—The fall of Durazzo is daily expected. In northern Albania the Montenegrins are actively co-operating with the Serbian movement, but the result is not yet known.

WHEN CARVING WAS AN ART

In Old Days the Slicing Was Suited To the Importance of the Guest.

Carving was once a serious thing. The sixteenth century carver was a professional. He had to make the joint fit the guest. The size of his slices was the thing. Then he had to know his guests and cut accordingly.

A lord, for instance, at the table, and a pike was dished up whole. Smaller fry, and the pike came on in slices. The same procedure with pig. The rank of the diners decided whether it should appear at table in gold leaf or naked, whole or sliced. With bread, too, there was a difference.

New or three days old baked was at the discretion of the carver as he sized up the visitors. And as for the apportioning of the tidbits according to precedence there was no end. The old-time carver in fact was born and then made.

The eighteenth century was the day of the carving master. He taught hostesses the art. Lady Mary Montague, for instance, took three lessons a week "that she might be perfect on her father's public days, when, in order to perform her functions without interruptions, she was forced to eat her own dinner alone an hour or two beforehand."

The hostess carved while the host "pushed the bottle." She did more. She urged the guests to eat more and more, and was to her if she neglected a guest. The diner who was forced to help himself to a slice of anything nearly choked. These diners of the eighteenth century liked being pressed. And the hostess welcomed the end of the feast.

WET PROFITS DRY UP.

When Galesburg, Ill., was dry and neighboring Moundville wet, the Rock Island Southern made a profit of $40,000 a year carrying passengers between the two. Moundville went dry and the profit turned into a $75 deficit the next year.

OVERLAND $750

This is the Largest 4-Cylinder Overland That Will Be Produced This Year ROADSTER $725

Model 83 f. o. b. Toledo

THE NEWEST OVERLAND—$325 LESS THAN LAST YEAR

The 1916 Overland is essentially the same as the 1915 Overland—the famous Model 80 that sold for $1,075. But the price is $325 less.

The stream-line body is the same as the $1,075 Model of last season.

It has the same magnificent finish, that deep, rich tone of dark lacquer green with fine hairline striping of clear ivory-white.

It has the same powerful, economical 35 horse-power, four-cylinder motor, but weighs less.

It has high-tension magneto ignition.

It has the same underslung rear springs. It has the convenient arrangement of electric control buttons on the steering column.

It has the same easy-working clutch which any woman can operate; the same "easy to handle" shifting lever; the same "easy to steer with" wheel; the same positive brakes.

It has 32-inch X 4-inch tires, which is unusual on a car at this price.

In detail, finish, mechanical fitness, comforts and conveniences, this newest Overland gives you all there was in the $1,075 Overland and even more power.

And it costs you but $750—$325 less than last season's large 35 horse-power Overland. Deliveries are being made now all over the country. Every Overland dealer already has a waiting list. Place your order immediately and you can be sure of a speedy delivery.
